GM'S notes

Hi Everyone,

I was in the process of parking the car opposite Tembaga temple when Good Licker waved and indicated that we should move on to the waterfall. So we drove round and the calming view of the waterfall, not as spectacular as the last run I had done here when the torrential rain had greatly added to the volume, but none the less beautiful, reassured us this would be a good evening.

38 members attended the run and when the circle was called we introduced the 4 guests, Golden Cock, Bendover, Fuckarewe and Libber. Good Licker told us it was a medium run and there was one back check.

We were sent off from the waterfall back towards the usual temple and then right up the familiar steps and then on up the hill. We were only a third of the way up when Goodyear took off to the right. Not much later we heard him calling 'on paper'. We found this hard to believe as the paper was winding up but left. Later on of course we discovered he had found the home trail. I don't know what he did but we didn't see him again until back at the site.

The paper continued up and left for a while but then plunged down to the left. Again there were runners going straight up the hill. The urge to short cut and get back to the beer obviously is stronger than the need to workout! Those of us still on paper were resigned to the fact that lovely as this down section was there would have to be another climb. Sure enough the climb soon started and it was steep and where the ground was bare or mossy covered rock it was slippery. We heaved our weary bodies right to the top and then slipped and slid on down.

After skirting round the hill we were above the waterfall and it crossed Frank's mind that we might have to plunge over the fall to get back to the site. But no, the hares took us down a well marked stepped track and we arrived back on the in trail and ran the last few metres back to the cars..

The hares had provided a tasty curry with bread and beehoon. The big problem was they were still stuck in last year's time warp and did not provide bowls or implements. Hashers used to improvisation found various solutions to the crisis and everyone ate.

Hares please note: If you are against providing plates etc please let the On Sex know two weeks before so it can be noted clearly in the newsletter and hashers can come prepared!

A very brief circle ensued. First on ice was Libber because he was a virgin hasher. He said he would look into running with Melbourne men on his return to Oz. He was followed by Silent Man who was rewarded for setting a good run and providing good food the previous week. The circle had been cancelled because heavy rain stopped play. Next on ice was Fuckarewe who was rewarded for intending to bring 40 runners from Brisbane to the Harriet's 2000th celebration. Next on ice was the GM for confusing Gangrene with Fuckarewe and they are neither the same shape nor height and do not resemble each other in any way. Well they are both Aussies and use colourful language. GM had generally ballsed up all evening so had actually been asking for it! Then Sex Bitch was iced for wanting to short cut before the run had hardly got going. The hares, Good Licker and Busy Body were then iced. The run was deemed excellent, the food delicious and the site brilliant. The circle was then closed and social drinking called.

Many thanks guys for a great Thursday evening! Busy Body has gone from a regular attendee to a once in a while hasher. It was good to see you Busy Body – try to come more often.

See you all next Thursday. On on Funny Stuff!!!!

A ten year old boy was failing math. His parents tried everything from tutors to hypnosis, but to no avail. Finally, at the insistence of a family friend, they decided to enroll their son in a private Catholic school.

After the first day, the boy's parents were surprised when he walked in after school with a stern, focused and very determined __expression on his face, and went right past them straight to his room, where he quietly closed the door.

For nearly two hours he toiled away in his room - with math books strewn about his desk and the surrounding floor. He emerged long enough to eat, and after quickly cleaning his plate, went straight back to his room, closed the door, and worked feverishly at his studies until bedtime. This pattern continued ceaselessly until it was time for the first quarter report card.

The boy walked in with his report card - unopened - laid it on the dinner table and went straight to his room. Cautiously, his mother opened it, and to her amazement, she saw a bright red "A" under the subject of MATH.

Overjoyed, she and her husband rushed into their son's room, thrilled at his remarkable progress.

"Was it the nuns that did it?", the father asked.

The boy only shook his head and said, "No."

"Was it the one-on-one tutoring? The peer-mentoring?"

"No."

"The textbooks? The teachers? The curriculum?"

"Nope," said the son. "On that first day, when I walked in the front door and saw that guy they nailed to the 'plus sign,' I just knew they meant business!"
