Notes from the On Sex.

Hi Everyone,

Busy Body called round during the morning for some paper, so I guessed he was going to lay on the day but he told me he had already laid the trail the day before and was just going around again to make sure all was in order. So I asked the obvious questions about the length of the trail etc but he would only give out that it would be on tracks all the way. Since I had had a busy week to-ing and fro-ing from Genting to Ipoh to KL and then back to Penang I was not wanting too long a run especially as it gets dark early nowadays and it could rain.

As we got to Bee Gallery, Busy Body was being Busy Body and since no-one had seen him for sometime he had a lot of catching up to do. But his ever smiling face was good to see once again. It seems he is working late these days and therefore cannot make the runs as frequently as he used to. Shame that since he always adds something to the evening.

Announcements were made regarding: The PIH2 outstation run on the 10 Dec. The Pub Crawl on the 25th November and the first Joint run of the Penang State Hash Chapters on the 27th November. (for further info contact me).

After the run, which turned out to be not so short with the last runners coming out around 8pm a nice meal of home made Chicken curry and bread went down very well. After the circle and a few beers the evening started to buzz even more and it was quite late when I left and there were still members enjoying yet another good Harriets evening. So thanks very much Busy Body.

Run Number: 2073

Venue: Bee Gallery

Hare: Busy Body

I was asked by Rambo to give a short write up on Busybody's run, so here goes! Very short!

I think this was my fourth run after I injured my right knee in August 2011, of all places in the confines of my office! I am undergoing pedaling therapy now.

The run started a short distance from the entrance to the black pipe, up along a ridge on the edge of an old quarry and made its way all the way up via to the usual route.

The front runners led by Mike, General Alistair and a guest runner were caught with a bar somewhere down on the right whilst those who trudged behind them from the start were happy to bypass this bar and continued upwards.

There was a circle at a "y" junction and obviously the then front runners led by Take Care, Lily and Goodyear made a good guess to turn left as they responded to my call for direction. The run traversed left across running terrain, across a few streams and finally wound its way up to "No. 5". The front runners however did not go up to "No. 5" but continued their way down to the black pipe area whilst the "ang moh tik" strictly followed the route.

I should have followed them to avoid the never ending steps from "No. 5" which pounded my injured knee. Wonder whether these guys were iced! The papers were missing at the top of the ridge after the No. 5 station, obviously removed by the so called caretakers of the hill.

Along the way down to Moon Gate near to the vicinity of ruined house, I encountered a cobra which slithered across the path up the slope on the left. The run exited at the Moon Gate. I was happy to have had completed the run with a "tight" knee and look forward to a full recovery to continue to enjoy my runs.

On On!

Funnies

A burglar broke into a house one night. He shone his flashlight around, looking for valuables when a voice in the dark said:

'Jesus knows you're here.'

He nearly jumped out of his skin, clicked his flashlight off and froze. When he heard nothing more, after a bit, he shook his head and continued.

Just as he pulled the stereo out so he could disconnect the wires, clear as a bell he heard 'Jesus is watching you.'

Freaked out, he shone his light around frantically, looking for the source of the voice.

Finally, in the corner of the room, his flashlight beam came to rest on a parrot.

'Did you say that?' he hissed at the parrot.

'Yep', the parrot confessed, then squawked, 'I'm just trying to warn you that he is watching you.'

The burglar relaxed. 'Warn me, huh? Who in the world are you ?'

'Moses,' replied the bird.

'Moses?' the burglar laughed. 'What kind of people would name a bird Moses?'

'The kind of people that would name a Rottweiler Jesus.'
