GM's Notes

Sai Seng and Goodyear started off the run and I followed behind. They had decided to do the PH3 run with a small variation. I thought at this point that it looked like a harmless trail as we made our way towards the rocks. They waited for me to catch up and Goodyear said this was the start of the ON UP!

As usual I was at the back but what I didn't know was the rock face veered to the right and it felt unending. On and on we climbed with no end in sight. I felt it was like the "WALL" from Game of Thrones. Sai Seng and Goodyear effortlessly scaled it, whilst I huffed and puffed catching up to them and hoping that the rain would stay away until after the run at least.

Two thirds up the hill I gave in to temptation and called out "Are we there yet?" Goodyear and Sai Seng were up above me grinning away as I finally dragged myself up the last part and onto the ridge. It struck me then that I had done this climb once before at a PIH2 run and it wasn't any easier than either!

The On Down was long, long, long! Weaving its way along the Bkt. Jambul trails and down through overgrown patches of farmers' plantations. It was steep in places too and I was happy to be doing it in the light and not later in the evening when it would be getting dark, especially for the back runners. Finally emerging on to the concrete bike path we reached the bottom after another long hike which was hard on the knees.

In the evening we had seven invited guests from the Indian Association as well as Calvin, Wendy and Itchi Bai. Some members got caught in traffic and arrived late and missed the run and some went to the wrong place initially. But in the end we had a good crowd of around 34 members and 10 guests. I'm not sure now how many did the actual run but all agreed it was a good tough and long on up which really gave everyone a great workout. Those that didn't get to run you certainly missed something but it was good to have you all around for the beer, food and comradeship.

We had a circle as usual with the Choir in good voice once again and we just about got through with it when the heavens opened and it bucketed down. Some camped under umbrellas by the beer wagon, whilst others headed to the porch of a kindly neighbour who offered shelter and tables and chairs to sit at.

Many thanks to Good year for the very good tough run, good chicken curry and the free beers!!

Circle

1. Welcome to all the guests from the IA and Wendy, Calvin and Itchi Bai.
2. The GM called out Imposter, Money and Calvin to the ice. The charge was being FRBs but going in early and especially Money, who left Rupiah at the start and she went in at the proper time!!
3. Another charge from the GM saw Smiling Horse, Beauty Queen and Handyman cool their bums on the ice. Their crime was going to the wrong run site even though they are practically natives of Penang and should know where Pekaka was.
4. The GM was in good charging form and then had Botak Chin and Michelle on the ice. They missed the turning and had to be directed back to the run site. They obviously hadn't read the newsletter and seen the map!! Botak Chin was excused by the GM as he was driving and not navigating hence Michelle took the charge alone!
5. The GM next asked G-man to sit on the ice throne. His crime, being super fit these days and going off climbing different hills within Malaysia and camping out over several days to finish some of them.

6. Congratulations were in order to Polish Piper and Pukka Sahib on completing 300 runs!! Well in Polish Piper's case attending the beer wagon 300 times. Interestingly it took Pukka Sahib 21years to do 100 runs and now only around 6 years to complete the 300.
7. A charge from the floor saw Black German on the ice. His crime was doing the Harriets' run but never doing the PH3 run of which he is the GM.
8. A revenge charge saw Black German charge Goodyear and Sai Seng with bashing a path through the farmers' plantations when there was an easier way to come down.
9. The last icing was to thank the Hare of the Day, Goodyear for a good tough run, good food and the free beers.

The IA is having a fund raising dinner which is on 16 July. The cost is RM100 but it includes an 8 course Chinese Banquet with free flow of beer and a bottle of whiskey on every table. They have supported us in the past. It would be great if some members could attend the function. Unfortunately it is the same day as the Butterworth Harriets anniversary run which a number of us are already signed up for.
