Newsletter 1953

GM'S notes

Hi Everyone,

Well the rainy season has hit with a vengeance so you can forget the tropical paradise of Penang bit and have wellies and macs to the ready. The relentless rain, the grey skies and the chilly air are more reminiscent of England than Malaysia. There was a small window of respite from 7.45 – 11.00am during which I did manage to fit my game of golf in. But then the heavens opened and torrential rain followed right up until it was time to leave for hash.

We drove to Charlie market and realized that any fools doing this must long since have lost their grey matter. I took the hash bag into the shelter of the market to try to keep the cards dry and watched a small band of hashers assemble. When the circle was called there were 21 hashers and 4 guests who were introduced and welcomed (Tin Tin, Jessie and her husband, and a FTAC member whose name I didn't catch). Take Care told us it was a simple, short run with no checks or bars and to stay on paper as it was very slippery.

We set off up the hash highway and soon turned off left and wound our way up through the cemetery. We then continued to skirt round and up and then down a bit. There was a cry of "Bees" and we took stock of how to avoid them and decided that the easiest way was simply to hurry through. By now everyone's shoes had clogged with mud and as we clambered up a stride we tended to fall back two strides so progress was slow. On the next down section Sperm Whale was heard to say "Oh God, the up and over from here is going to be horrendous."

His comment was accurate and so the pack became very spread out and I wondered if I had missed a smart short cut as I lost sight and sound of anyone else! After an enormous effort the top was reached and then of course the steep, slippery on down had to be negotiated. I was dying for a beer and wanted to run but had to creep and crawl to ensure no strains or breaks occurred. Finally I was back on the hash highway and could risk at least a slow jog. The heavy rain had caused several landslides along the route making the scene often look like a disaster area rather than familiar jungle.

Back at the market more hashers and guests had arrived so the numbers looked quite respectable. No one was lost but Tin Tin and Jessie and her husband came out late as they had found the slippery slopes very hard to manage.

After eating and drinking and trying to talk above the noise of the rain we had a short circle. First on ice was Nee Chuah who celebrated her birthday this week. Next we asked Mary (an Ex GM) to stand by the ice and be welcomed. Then her husband Glyn sat on the ice and was welcomed as an ex-harrier. Next Goodyear was iced by Take Care for complaining about the bees, the lack of checks etc. Then Goodyear iced Mini Sausage for being an aggressive runner and disturbing the bees that stung several hashers. Then Take Care iced Gangrene for not doing the run. Then Good year iced Take Care and his co-hare for some run related offence which wasn't clear- but hey this is hash! Finally Take Care was iced for setting a good run, providing good food and choosing a sheltered run site.

Many thanks Take Care for a great Thursday.
