Newsletter 2004

Notes from the VGM

On arriving at the TAR College Sheila was glad to see me. Sheila was alone sitting at the runsite . "I thought I was at the wrong runsite?" she said. You are on the right runsite. I replied. Slowly the rest arrived. There were 2 guest from US. Ezy Lipps and Saintly Suds. I never get to ask how do they get the names others were Heng , Viagra, Loon (Woon's friend). And members were 43.

Mark Chong announced, Short Run but take torch light!!! No check. Off we go with him following us to the PBA ground, Cause he is careful not to put to much paper on the surrounding area. Good for Mark, considerate enviromentalist. I was the last one to arrive back from the hill at 8.15pm eh !eh! Mike told me "6km Rosie" as measured by the General on his GPS. Short run indeed!!!

Weather hold pleasant for us till late. First people on Ice were our Guests, Ezy Lipps and Saintly Suds, to welcome them in Penang as they missed our 2000th run. They enjoyed our hospitality. Bibi Tulips was charged from the floor for disrespecting the circle and chatting someway distant from it. Then it was the turn of Take Care to be on ice for showering during the circle. Since no further charges... Hare on ice.! Hare gave us a good pipping run and a good curry chicken, vegetable meal.

Thank you Mark Chong for the very good evening.

Run Number: 2003

Venue: TAR College

After M&S had said his spiel regarding the run, including “take a torch” we knew something was afoot despite mummerings coming from the circle that we had a lazy hare!! We have a saying “never judge a book by it's cover”. In other words read it first and then comment afterwards! Same here. How can you begin to comment on a run that you haven't even done? Do the run and then comment afterwards if you want. You never know when you have to eat your words!!

We headed off down the road towards the quarry and on straight across the waste ground. As we hit the end of the track we went right, over the barbed wire and through the cultivated field by a circuitous route so as not to cause any aggravation with the farmer. Once we were in the trail behind, along we went and then left into the wider main track. “Ah I thought” and I guess a lot of others also thought the same thing “we know this route. Straight on and up.” But we were wrong!

The Hare had taken us right and across the stream, where I know some got their shoes wet. A new beginning for me. As we crossed and climbed the other side we were along side a wire fence which on following around, we did commando training by having to crawl under it where it was somewhat loose. Then it was off to the left and into the jungle. At this point we were running parallel to the tar road where more than a few hikers were taking their nightly stroll. A few words passed between us and then off we went again following trail. I wondered at this point why the Hare was following us and initially presumed that he was going to sweep the run. But as we progressed to the point of the trail where the paper went right and up the hill, he stayed behind. Later I found out why.

The on up was very pleasant and not so steep. We skirted around to the right for a while but going ever upwards. Mini Sausage, who had obviously arrived late, thundered past me and was gone in a flash. I soon caught up with Rambo who was taking it easy and then Bend Over who was having a breather. “Not good today” he said but on he went. I climbed higher and came across Edna making her way upwards and then caught up with our USA visitors whom I had been taking to earlier. They came from Washington DC (not may hills there) and had heard about our Penang Hills and decided to see for themselves. They had been nearby in Kuching for the InterHash so it was quite easy for them. They had previously Hashed and lived in Hawaii where there are some BIG hills though. They were doing very well and were almost at the ridge when I passed them. Once we hit the ridge but not the top ridge, more of a secondary ridge just lower down, it was all down hill from there. We literally traversed to the left following the waterpipe and with the exception of some boulders we had to pick our way through, it was a pleasant and easy trail on down. We hit a another pathway at right angles and the paper went to the left and down. It was a long way down but again pleasant with the only sounds being those of the 'forest'. As we got towards the bottom I found out why the Hare had stayed behind....he was laying home paper. The whole run was a big loop with the IN and OUT the same. So it was back under the wire and around the fence to the stream where wonder of wonders was Sperm Whale (who else?) bathing in the flowing waters along with Woon and Loon (sounds like a double act!) We left them and headed on IN and to the amber necter. When we got back we found out the trail was just over 6 Km. No wonder it had taken me about an hour and half. So much for being a lazy Hare! I did say someone might have to eat their words! I hope they tasted good!

Thanks M&S. A great run. Reasonably easy and one our guests could also do. But a good workout.

Funnies

Nurses aren't supposed to laugh.....

Fred goes to see the nurse. Fred said 'You won't laugh will you?'

'Of course I won't laugh, said the nurse. I'm a professional. In over twenty years I've never laughed at a patient.'

'Okay then,' said Fred, and he proceeded to drop his trousers, revealing the tiniest penis the nurse had ever seen. Length and width, it couldn't have been any bigger than a AAA battery.

Unable to control herself, the nurse started giggling, then fell to the floor laughing.

Ten minutes later, she was able to struggle to her feet and regain her composure. 'I am so sorry,' she said. 'I don't know what came over me. On my honour as a nurse and a lady, I promise it won't happen again. Now, tell me, what seems to be the problem?'

'It's swollen,' Fred replied.

She ran out of the room.
