Notes from the On Sex.

Hi Everyone,

37 members and 5 guests gathered at the run-site and it was good to know that the 'distance' did not deter them for coming to support the Bunny. Speedhound asked me if I would keep an eye on her two guests (Mr & Mrs Ong) who wanted to experience the Hash and were virgins! ..Well hash virgins anyway!! So yes no problem and since Texas Tits and Uncle Bee were with me Akz Hole decided he would forge ahead knowing I was in good hands. The other guests, Trigamist, Mike and Eric passed us and had us asking ourselves how they have the stamina to go so fast.

Our usual slow group of Silent Man, Bendover, Rambo, Uncle Bee and myself together with Texas Tits and our two guests, plodded on together following the paper up & up and across & up & up & down & up and finally down. As the light began to fade Texas Tits and I quickened our pace since neither of us wanted to be caught in the jungle in the dark. We were closely followed by Uncle Bee who kept calling "Where are you? I can't see you" as the light faded fast. However we hit the pipe line and trail home in the semi dark and it was easy going from there.

When we got back to the run site Speedhound came over and sighed with relief that her two guests were safe and sound (Bendover and Silent man were with them and they were not far behind anyway). Then the question of "Did you see Edna, Beauty Queen and guests Trigamist and Mike (the guy who was using two sticks or ski poles to climb the hills!!!! was asked. "NO" was the reply. Our group was the last and they had already passed us way back. Phones calls were made and it turned out that they were lost and that Mike had fallen down and hurt himself. A rescue operation was quickly mounted with Big Willy and grasshopper going in the reverse route whilst Gangreen, KGB and Cumming Soon when the in route.

The hours passed and at 10pm we decided to celebrate Rambo's birthday before everyone disappeared as the members were beginning to drift off. At around 10.20pm Trigamist appeared and related the news that all was well and the others were following. A shaken Mike returned and told about his "Tumble in the Jungle". He was a bit battered and bruised but after good advice from Bai Pass of "Drink more Tiger" he seemed to recover quite well.

We had a short circle staring at 10.30pm and the first on ice were Trigamist and Edna for trying to shortcut and getting lost! It goes to show that if you are not that familiar with the terrain stick to paper as even veterans can get lost!!!!

So a very eventful evening which continued to after midnight.

Many thanks to Hari Hari Mau for the good run and wonderful food. A special thank you too to the rescue teams who went in and brought everyone out safely.

Funnies

Cousin Elly is the world's worst at getting instructions mixed up. When she got married her husband bought her one of those fancy, electric coffee makers. It had all the latest gadgets on it.

Salesman Riley carefully explained how everything worked; how to plug it in, set the timer, go back to bed, and upon rising, the coffee is ready."

A few weeks later Elly was back in the store and Riley asked her how she liked the coffee maker.

"Wonderful!" she replied, "However, there's one thing I don't understand. Why do I have to go to bed every time I want to make a pot of coffee?"

A man is at work one day when he notices that his co-worker is wearing an earring. This man knows his co-worker to be a normally conservative fellow, and is curious about his sudden change in "fashion sense."

The man walks up to him and says, "I didn't know you were into earrings."

"Don't make such a big deal, it's only an earring," he replies sheepishly.

"So, really? How long have you been wearing one?"

"Ever since my wife found it in our bed."

Sardar, (Mr. Singh) a furniture dealer from Kirti Nagar, decided that he wanted to expand the line of furniture in his store, so he decides to go to Paris to see what he could find.

After arriving in Paris (this being his first trip ever to the French capital), he met with some manufacturers and finally selected a new range of furniture that he thought would sell well back home in west Delhi.

To celebrate the new acquisition, he decides to visit a pub and have a glass of wine.

As he sat down enjoying his wine, soon enough, a very beautiful attractive young lady came to his table, asked him something in French (which he did not understand), and motioned toward the chair.

He invited her to sit down. He tried to speak to her in PUNJABI-HINDI- ENGLISH but she did not speak or know any of these languages. So, after a couple of minutes of trying to communicate with her, he took a napkin and drew a picture of a wine glass and showed it her. She nodded, and he ordered a glass of wine for her.

After sitting together at the table for a while, he took another napkin and drew a picture of a plate with food on it, and she nodded.

They left the pub and found a quiet cafe that featured a small group playing romantic music. They ordered dinner, after which he took another napkin and drew a picture of a couple dancing. She nodded, and they got up to dance.

They danced until the cafe closed and the band was packing up. Then, after they were back at their table, the young lady took a napkin and drew a picture of a bed.

Till this day, the Sardar is trying to figure out how she knew he was in the furniture business.
