NEWSLETTER 2161

GM'S NOTE:

Mike, being the stand-in barman for the day was in a hurry to get to the run-site so he could get the beer chilled for the hashers! There were not many people around on arrival maybe because it had been raining hard all night long and during the morning.

After letting the pack know about the trail we got going. Almost from the very beginning the trail was through the bush! Up we climbed on to slippery paths left by the FRBs, sometimes on our bums and sometimes just hanging on to roots for support. As Sai Seng had said, it was a virgin run and the ground was soft and very slippery in places.

At the top of the new hilltop Temple, there was so much rubbish strewn about in the bush that I think the devotees must think God himself was coming down to clear it all up for them as they certainly weren't going to! I also saw some of the aniseed plant Sai Seng had so excitedly mentioned earlier but some of them had already been transplanted by the trampling feet of some hashers!

As the paper led towards a concrete block (which I later found out were toilets by No.3) I slipped again on the green and mossy cement track but fortunately did little damage. I was following Silentman and when he turned left I followed expecting the run to exit at Youth Park. However we saw no paper but carried on anyway!!

Back at the run-site Sai Seng told us we had come back from the wrong direction and hence must have been off paper and threatened to put me on ice. I responded I was just following my leader!! Earlier, Lyna and Nick were with us but somehow we lost them but they found the paper and came out after us, so maybe we had a good plan afterall!!

The crowd at the run-site had swelled significantly. Renata is renowned as a great cook and hence many “dining guests” such as Horse, Bibi, Ah Lye and Rob, showed up to partake of the wonderful feast she had provided. After a delicious dessert we had the circle.

Many thanks Renata for the fantastic food and for getting the guys to provide a challenging run. Also thanks to Mike for standing in as Beerman for the evening. He said it was hard work keeping the beer cold and available for the thirsty hashers and hats off to Samy for doing it week in week out!!

CIRCLE:

1. Our “dinner guests and members” were suitably welcomed.
2. Our next welcome were to “real” guests and it was great to see Bommy and Nick back in Penang once again and to Ah Lye.
3. A charge from the floor saw Steve @ Spermwhale on the ice. He was apparently too “ill” to run but not “ill” enough not to come and eat dinner!!
4. As Spermwhale left the ice Money made another charge from the floor and put him straight back on it. The charge this time was Spermwhale had asked Money to help set his run but he got the wrong week. He thought it was on this night . Fortunatley Money had corrected him.
5. The co-hares for the evening, Sai Seng and Lucas @ Grasshopper were then thanked for setting a largely virgin and challenging run.
6. Last icing for the evening was reserved for the Bunny of the day, Renata. Many thanks for the wonderful and delicious spread provided and for the organising the guys.

Next week it IS Steve’s run opposite Shamrock Beach. See you all there.

FUNNIES

A husband emerged from the bathroom naked and was climbing into bed when his wife complained, as usual,
"I have a headache."

"Perfect" her husband said. "I was just in the bathroom powdering my penis with aspirin. You can take it orally or as a suppository,... it's up to you!"
