GM's Note:

Our Hare, Mini Sausage, a last minute stand in for Philip aka Tiu Nia Seng, who is away in Indonesia for a Job assignment decided to change the runsite from Leader Garden to Beverly Hills aka Twin Tower watertank at the 11th hour,,,,,

It's been a long long time since we last ran there and lots of new Bungalows had occupied the once deserted area,, ,but sad to say, most of it remain unoccupied.

8 guests and 40 members came for the hare's medium run....What a day it has been for our hare who encountered the following - Stand in hare, runsite change, hit his rear bumper with a Garbage Truck on his way to the runsite and lastly, Itchibai's car hit his rear bumper AGAIN later in the night....So, do you all know what 4D numbers to buy this weekend???

BY POPULAR DEMAND

Please let VGM or Myself know your sizes ASAP before 12th June if you wish to purchase.

Burst

The last minute change to the Harriets meeting place, delivered via email and sms, saw us bypassing Leader Garden and continuing up the road to gather near a water tank beneath a cliff face fronted by massive new houses at Beverly Hill. My timing was such that Uncle Bee presented me with the ultimate accolade-Write the burst? your run is next week at the Charlie Market so use the burst to inform everyone she said. Reluctantly agreed and with the help from my good friend Pussy Whipped we manage scrabble something.

At the run site Mini Sausage the hare was quick to tell us that run is set by Mini but the run is not mini bring along your torch light, no torch no run and at 5.30pm a group of about eight emerged from the mingling Harriets and set off early, breaking the time honoured rules that Hash run starts at 6pm.

Take Care pranced around looking restless and finally at 6.00 pm called for us to head off, which the main group did after the Hare quickly explained what the papers looked like.

The first mini hurdle was the steep bank which deterred one or two, but rest took it in their stride. A group of four, Pussy Whipped, Mother Han, Posh and myself fall to the back of the group and ambled along through a gentle undulating "park- liking setting', skirting behind the housing on our right-hand side. We were going so slow that mosquito's were flying past us ,circling around and giving us hard time.

After about thirty minutes we took left and upwards which looked like mini On On Up. At around 6.30pm, General quietly emerged from behind us, gave us a quick nod and disappeared into the foliage while we took another rest. Ten minutes later the On On Up become steeper and we slowed down to meet its resistance and Longhair ambled past. Soon Silent Man came and joined us ensuring that we all picked up a bit of motion to lift our faltering steps. Iceman zipped past giving his jaunty hello and then disappearing the next few second while we pushed and prodded each other to keep on paper, despite several calls to reverse our route or to take the short cut.

No-one else passed us so we knew that we were the laggards plodding forward ON ON and Up.

Finally the paper level out and soon we were tracking on a mini on down as evening drew out and the light were dimmed. Out came the torches and we scrambled and slipped the next 20 minutes or so through the darkening jungle, tripping over vines and slithering down damp wet banks, until a cry went out- city lights! As we exited Frank, represented by a wavering light sauntered up behind us.. so we weren't the last out at 7.50pm!

A very good run Mini
Thanks ON ON.

Jokes of the day

Two blondes walk into a bar, the brunette ducks.

A young brunette goes into the doctor's office and says that her body hurts wherever she touches it. "Impossible," says the doctor. "Show me."

She takes her finger and pushes her elbow and screams in agony. She pushes her knee and screams, pushes her ankle and screams and so it goes on, everywhere she touches makes her scream.

The doctor says, "You're not really a brunette, are you?"

She says, "No, I'm really a blonde."

"I thought so," he says. "Your finger is broken."

A Blonde was down on her luck. In order to raise some money, she decided to kidnap a kid and hold him for ransom.

She went to the playground, grabbed a kid, took him behind a tree, and told him, "I've kidnapped you."

She then wrote a note saying, "I've kidnapped your kid. Tomorrow morning, put $10,000 in a paper bag and put it under the pecan tree next to the slide on the north side of the playground. Signed, Blonde."

The Blonde then taped the note to the kid's shirt and sent him home to show it to his parents.

The next morning the blonde checked, and sure enough, a paper bag was sitting beneath the pecan tree.

The blonde opened the bag and found the $10,000 with a note that said, "How could you do this to a fellow Blonde?"

A blonde went to the appliance store sale and found a bargain. "I would like to buy this TV," she told the salesman.

"Sorry, we don't sell to blondes," he replied.

The blonde was very angry about this. She hurried home and dyed her hair, then came back and again told the salesman, "I would like to buy this TV."

"Sorry, we don't sell to blondes," he replied.

The blonde did not know how the salesman had recognized her. This time, she got a haircut and new colour, a new outfit and big sunglasses. She then waited a few days before she approached the salesman.

"I would like to buy this TV."

"Sorry, we don't sell to blondes," he replied.

Frustrated, she exclaimed, "How do you know I'm a blonde?"

"Because that's a microwave," he replied.
