Run: 2499

Date: 2 January 2020

Hare: Peter Wong

Runsite: Kim Kim restaurant, Balik Pulau

We had 26 members turning up for the run all the way to Balik Pulau. The hare invited quite a bit of hashers from the mainland and some of our ex-members. Anyway it was nice to see our ex- members.

“WELCOME EVERYONE” .

Before we could welcome the guests most of them took off to do the run. It was a nice kampong run with padi fields and with a beautiful scenery. In general it was a great road run.

Burst by John

On Wednesday Judy (Snatch n Grab) and I are returning to Australia after a year in beautiful Penang. In my last write-up, just after our very first Hash run here in April last year, I wrote, "The prospect of the run was frightening - I was a flat-earth runner (think 'Holland')". So there's a bit of symmetry in that this, my very last run, held at Balik Pulau, was actually my very first flat-earth run with the club. And I must say, despite the enormous fun I've had with mountain tracks (or not) through jungle and loose, wet, slippery leaves, I enjoyed this run very much.

The highlight for me was getting to run with Anjalai, off the bat. We fell into a shared pace very quickly, and the sound of our feet hitting the gravel together was satisfying and even a little mesmerising. This kind of running doesn't happen very often, and it's great when it does. We heard the route was around 8km, so it was nice to get this rhythm early.

Another first for me was running through rice paddies. I've always considered myself a bit of an expert on rice paddies since being able to explain to an American tourist, many years ago, that the "rice paddies" he was looking at were actually oyster farms. Despite never having been up close and personal with a rice paddy, it was good being able to make such fine distinctions like that.

Another thing about rice paddies is that "on down" takes on a whole new meaning, and that without a "down" it's much easier to get lost. And so it was with us. Close to the end of the run, Anjalai and I started taking turns at "Wait for me – I'm your leader" as we tried in vain to get back on paper. We were enjoying the run so much it didn't matter, but we did end up running an extra two or three kilometres. We earned our beer.

Big thanks to the hare (and happy birthday Peter Wong). The route was varied and interesting and the paper was clear and plentiful (despite our little detour at the end). Back at the ranch there was a real party atmosphere as the scotch and beer flowed plentiful, and the food at Kim Kim was really good. The tablecloths and silver rice containers were a nice touch. The only regret was that we didn't have lazy-susans on those big round tables – not because we needed them, but just because I always love messing with them after a few beers.

A big thanks to Anjalai for conducting the circle under enormous pressure, with the fearless assistance of Nikki. The revelry and merriment, and the fact that they had no possibility of making an actual circle, made their job pretty tough. They did a great job regardless.

As I mentioned at the start, this was the last Harriets run for Judy and I (for now). We want to give a huge big thanks to all for making us feel so welcome and adding such fun and depth to our year in Penang. An extra big thanks to Jes se, Mike, Anjalai and Moira for their endless good spirit in helping us out with rides, especially in those times when it would have otherwise been difficult for us to come. We made some good friends. We will miss you all.

Circle

1. The guests were welcomed, too many so the GM from Butterworth was iced.
2. John & Judy, they are going back to Australia for good. We wish them all the BEST and hopefully someday they will be back.
3. Take Care and Jackpot were put on ice by Goodyear for not doing the run.

4. Goodyear charged Oyster Licker & Kim Kim for a great run and good food.
5. Goodyear charged Peter because it was his birthday and the cake was spons-sored by him. (In general it was Goodyears evening)

6. Lastly the hare was iced for the great evening and thanked Ai Nee for sponsoring the food.

Funnies

On a mountain trip a man falls down into a crack. His wife calls after him, “Are you OK?”

“Yeah!”

“Are you hurt?”

“No!”

“Not a scratch? How come?!”

“I’m not done falling yet-et-et-et-et!”

I called a suicide hotline in Iraq..

They got excited and asked if I could drive a truck.

My friend surprised me for my birthday with a book called ‘Road-Kill Recipes’. I did find some road-kill the other day, so I cooked it according to one recipe and it was delicious. I’m just not sure what I should do with the bicycle.

I’ll never understand how you can come up second in a biathlon. I mean – you’ve got a gun, haven’t you?!

A man wakes from a coma. The wife changes out of her black clothes and irritated, remarks, “I really cannot depend on you in anything, can I!”

Patient: “Doctor! Doctor! Help me - I cannot feel my legs!”

Doctor: “Don’t panic, that’s perfectly normal. It’s because I amputated your arms!”

Congratulations on your 60th birthday! At last you can live undisturbed by life insurance agents!
